OneTogether UK Expert Conference 2027

Raising the standard, benchmarking and innovation in SSI prevention

We are delighted to announce the launch of our OneTogether 2027 conference in Birmingham taking place on Wednesday 10th March 2027.

Join colleagues from across surgery, perioperative practice and infection prevention for a day of shared learning, professional discussion and practical approaches to improving surgical care and reducing the risk of surgical site infection.

OneTogether gives you the opportunity to join our conference and exhibition enabling you to engage with an outstanding professional profile with a key goal of improving surgical care to reduce surgical site infection.

OneTogether is a collaborative partnership between the leading professional organisations Infection Prevention Society (IPS), Society for Tissue Viability (SoTV), Central Sterilising Club (CSC), the Association for Perioperative Practice (AfPP) and the College of Operating Department Practitioners (CODP) with a core interest in the prevention of Surgical Site Infections (SSIs). We bring professionals together across the surgical pathway to share evidence based practice, support quality improvement and promote safer patient care.

Industry who are interested in providing a level of sponsorship for this conference, which we rely on, should contact us to find opportunities to join us.

OneTogether aims to:

- Raise awareness of surgical site infection.
- Provide practical resources that support evidence-based quality improvement in surgical care.
- Share a suite of resources to support quality improvement in surgical care, based on current guidance.
- Connect healthcare professionals and organisations to share learning and improve patient outcomes.
- Promote and share consistent best practice across all specialties and throughout the surgical patient pathway.
- Strengthen professional collaboration, education and knowledge sharing across the healthcare community, supporting the adoption of evidence based practice and continuous improvement in surgical care.

We look forward to welcoming you.
